

Today's Ogden News

BURGLARS MAKE ANOTHER RAID

Bold Work of Robbers Who Ransack Becker Residence in Broad Daylight.

W. S. A. OPENS SEPT. 16.

Courses of Study Offered and Names of Faculty—Railroaders Lose Arm Under Locomotive.

Ogden, Utah, Aug. 30.—The burglars who are working in Ogden are becoming very bold in their work and appear to be just as much at home days as nights in ransacking residences. One of the boldest of their crimes was committed yesterday afternoon sometime between 4 and 6 o'clock, when the home of G. L. Becker, 303 Twenty-fourth street, was burglarized.

The family together with the servant girl all left the home about 4 o'clock and were gone only about two hours. The servant returned first and was amazed to find the place topsy-turvy. In order to make a thorough search was made of the home, even little boxes in which small trinkets were kept were opened and their contents turned over the floors, the beds were turned over, Mr. Becker's desk was searched, and the burglar was well rewarded for his work, having secured the following articles: A ladies' Swiss gold watch belonging to Mrs. Becker, gold band ring, nine pearl handle table knives, eight elegant silver spoons from various European cities, a nickel plated 12 revolver, pair of gold cuff buttons, gold nose glasses, gold loose beads, $15 in cash and other things. Entrance to the home was gained through a window which the work was that of a professional burglar, as was shown by the manner in which he made a small hole in the woodwork, nearby the window spring, through which he inserted something and sprung the catch, then raised the window and crawled inside. A man who is suspected of the crime was observed by Mr. Allison, a neighbor, soon after 4 o'clock walking up and down the street in front of the Becker home, for a few minutes and then he disappeared. Mr. Allison did not know the man who was watching for homes to be left alone for a few hours and then they get in their work. They appear to prefer day time in order to commit their crimes, the police desire to warn the public against leaving their homes alone either night or day.

WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

Courses Offered for Coming School Year in Ogden's Big School.

Ogden, Aug. 30.—The faculty of the Weber stake academy held a meeting last evening at the home of the principal David O. McKay, spending a couple of hours in outlining their work for the opening of the school next month.

The board has issued the annual outline of courses to be taught at the institution, together with a brief history of the school and a short outline of the various branches of study. The courses of study to be taught are: Four years classical; four years scientific; four years literary; four years domestic arts; four years manual training; four years stenography and typewriting; one year special book keeping and one year stenography; two years missionary; one year preparatory.

Annual also contains several fine outlines of different departments of the school, of the academy staff, the principal, the board of trustees, the department of education, two societies and the graduating class of last year.

The faculty of instruction is as follows:

D. O. McKay, B. D., Principal.
Y. ment of theology: Wilford M. Kendrick, B. D., B. D., department of mathematics: Joseph Ballantyne, department of music: Sylvester D. Bradford, department of education: Sarah T. Evans, department of domestic arts and sciences: Daniel Ray Shurtliff, secretary, department of stenography and typewriting: Le Roy C. Cowles, English grammar and physical geography: Marlow Rich Porter, A. B., A. M., German, botany, agriculture;

Manager, E. A. Larkin
655 24th St. Telephone 133-K.

Advertisements for the Daily, Saturday and Semi-Weekly News accepted on the same terms as at the Salt Lake Office.

Circulator, John J. McGregor.
244 Wash. Ave.
Telephones Bell 1206; Ind. 90.

Payments for the Daily, Saturday and Semi-Weekly News should be made to the circulator. Delivery made by carrier on the same terms as in Salt Lake.

Joshua Percy Goddard, A. B., department of bookkeeping and economics; George W. Bailey, A. B., curator, department of natural science and Spanish; C. J. Jensen, department of history, and assistant in mathematics; Eva Parr, B. S., assistant in domestic arts and domestic sciences; Mervyn Baker, department of elocution and literature; Myrtle Ballard, assistant in domestic science; Wilford O. Ridges, department of manual training; Ernest W. Nichols, band master.

The school opens Monday, September 16.

ITINERARY OF CHOIR.

Leaves Saturday Afternoon—Gives Concerts in Sacramento and Frisco.

Ogden, Aug. 30.—The Ogden tabernacle choir leaves here on a Southern Pacific special at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, arriving at Sacramento Sunday evening.

The first public appearance of the choir will be Monday at 1 o'clock at the opening of the irrigation congress, immediately preceding vice president Fairbank's address. The other appearances of the choir during its absence will be Monday night at the reception of the congress hall, Tuesday night the choir will sing at a public reception at the Fairmont hotel, San Francisco, to be given in honor of the vice president. Concerts will be given in San Francisco Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Dreamland rink, the same building where the Schumann Heink sang and where Gadsby's concert will occur.

There is some chance of the choir's taking an excursion to Lake Tahoe on Friday, but this is not yet decided on. Friday evening it will return to Sacramento and give a concert there at midnight hall, leaving Sacramento at midnight Friday, reaching Ogden Sunday morning.

SAD CASE OF DEPRIVITY.

Child Dies While Mother is in Jail For Vagrancy—One Child Dies.

Ogden, Aug. 30.—This morning in police court a pathetic case came up, showing the depths of depravity to which one woman had sunk. It was the case of Mrs. C. Klenke, who was charged with vagrancy. She was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Erickson and was locked up in the police station. At her home were eight little children, many in need of a mother's care, one of them, a baby about 4 years old, was in a very critical condition from whooping cough.

This morning when Day Jailer Critchlow went to her cell, the following dialogue took place:

"How old is your baby at home that has whooping cough?" asked the jailer.

"He will be 4 years old next January," answered Mrs. Klenke.

"Do you know how he is this morning?"

"I guess he is dead," replied the woman, without sign of emotion.

"That's just what he is," said the jailer.

"Well, I can't help it," the woman snapped, without the least show of feeling.

She was taken from her cell to the court room, where she faced Judge Murphy. She entered a plea of guilty to the charge of vagrancy. She was severely scored by the judge and Atty. Divine, and the judge imposed a sentence of 30 days in jail. She was given permission, however, to attend the funeral of her child, but will be taken in custody after the services and brought back to jail to serve her sentence.

The woman's husband is employed as a truckman at the Southern Pacific railroad platform, and the actions of his wife grieve him very much. He has stood by her and got her out of many scrapes, and has done everything possible to reform her for the sake of the children, but all without avail.

LOSES ARM UNDER ENGINE.

R. B. Boyd Meets With Fatal Mishap In Depot Yards.

Special Correspondence.
Ogden, Aug. 30.—R. B. Boyd, who has been employed by the Union Depot company doing general clear-up work along the tracks in the yards, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon at 3:45 resulting in the loss of his left arm at the time and of his life later, just how the accident happened no one seems to be able to tell. A switch engine of the Harriman line was switching near the yardmaster's office and struck Boyd. It is believed he was walking along the track and was struck, but strange, the engine and switching crew declare they did not see him. The engine was moving along the track and he was struck by the side of the track with his left arm. Boyd fell from his body as if cut off by a knife right up by the shoulder. He was picked up and sent by the quickly arriving ambulance to the hospital, where the injury was dressed. As he was 65 years of age there was little hope of his recovering from the shock and he died this morning. He has no relatives here.

ANOTHER TYPHOID VICTIM.

Frank Cret Succumbs to Ravages of Fever.

Ogden, Aug. 30.—Typhoid fever has claimed another victim, making the third in Ogden in less than a week. Frank Cret, a young man of perhaps 27 years, and a stranger in Ogden, died yesterday afternoon at a local hospital. The young man was found by Detective Hutchins a week ago in a serious condition and was taken to the Sheriff's office. Dr. J. S. Cordon was summoned and pronounced his condition serious and immediately sent him to the hospital. He remained unconscious for a number of minutes and told Mr. Sebring his name and said he had a sister and two brothers living at Louisville, Ky. Although everything was done for him that could be done, both by the physician and nurses, he was so weak he could not survive it. His body was removed to Larkin & Sons mortuary and embalmed, and a message was sent to Louisville in the hope of locating his people.

FINE MAP WORK.

A very fine set of ownership maps has just been completed by the office of County Recorder Joseph Wallace. The work on the maps was done by Engineer A. H. Chambers, Jr., and reflects great credit on the young man's talent. The maps are up to date and will be very useful in the future, and describing all real estate in Ogden and Weber county.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

The entertainment given at the Second ward hall by the young ladies was excellent and appreciated by a large audience. To Mrs. J. H. Herrick and Mrs. George Wardlow is due much credit for their untiring work in helping the ladies to prepare the entertainment. The ladies will be used in buying new furniture for the kindergarten department of the Sunday school.

The appraisers of the estate of Owen Dermody have found only $100 in cash belonging to the estate.

President L. W. Shurtliff has gone to Sacramento to make some advance preparations for the tabernacle choir.

Mrs. I. Frodshaw has gone to California on a pleasure trip.

State St. Hardware for lawn mowers, shoes and poultry netting 252 State.

Labor Day at Saltair. Everybody is going.

Boys and girls have one more day of fun. Wandamere, free, Saturday 31st.

PLEASANT GROVE.

Schools Open Sept. 9.—Missionary Social—New Citizens Arrives.

Special Correspondence.
Pleasant Grove, Utah, Aug. 28.—On Friday evening, Aug. 29, a missionary social will be given in Clark's hall in honor of Mr. Lawrence Monson who is soon to leave for the mission field.

The work on the Central school building of this district is nearing completion. Three class rooms and hall have been added, where the high school will be installed. An efficient corps of teachers has been secured. School will open on Monday, Sept. 9.

James McCabe the barber, has gone east for a vacation and will visit his aged parents in Illinois while away.

Mrs. Martin Peterson presented her husband with a son Aug. 24.

Alvin F. Lundberg and W. K. Driggs were speakers at the services on Sunday afternoon.

EPHRAIM.

SCHOOL TEACHERS SELECTED.

Instruction Will Begin Sept. 9, With Full Corps of Pedagogues.

Special Correspondence.
Ephraim, Aug. 29.—The following teachers have been engaged for the coming school year, which will start Sept. 9: P. C. Anderson, Ed. Anderson, Carrie Larson, Lewis Dorius, Helen E. Young, Marie Christensen, Carrie Peterson, Hazel Greaves, Cora E. Jones, Ethel Thorpe and Anna Sorenson.

Aaron Nielson has opened up a new bakery in this city, which is a first class establishment.

SEE BERT FULLER AND LEO MOORE IN A half-raising automobile race, Wandamere, Labor Day.

$500 given away Saltair Labor Day.

LAKE TOWN.

CREAMERY IN COMMISSION.

Busy in Harvest Field—New Arrival—Sheep Shipments.

Special Correspondence.
Laketown, Rich Co., Aug. 28.—The quarterly meeting of the Seventies' quorum was held here on Sunday afternoon.

Reverends Paul Jones and C. J. Johnston of the Episcopal church, Logan, by courtesy of Bishop G. H. Robinson, occupied the pulpit at Sunday evening's meeting, which was largely attended. The gentlemen were delighted with the reception and attention accorded them by the bishop and audience.

Miss Eva M. Nebeker, accompanied on organ by Miss Lottie Nebeker, favored the audience with a superbly rendered violin solo.

Laketown Creamery will make its first shipment of cheese today. It has two milk wagons running daily, and bids fair to make a very satisfactory permanent improvement in local finances.

Samuel H. Henderson was blessed with an addition to his family on Sunday morning by the advent of a baby girl, and his Lake Shore cottage will resound with more infantine music.

Messrs. Thomas Rider, J. Herbert Nebeker, Herbert Carls, John Lunde, and Claude Kimball returned from successful sheep shipment and sales east. They fortunately struck the market right.

The local mail carriers changed routes lately. Walter Eggleston has quit the Randolph-Mishawen route, and bids fair to make a very satisfactory permanent improvement in local finances.

Everybody is exceedingly busy, grain cutting and binding going merrily on.

BEAVER.

BRANCH B. Y. U. OPENS SEPT. 9.

District Schools Begin Same Date—County Tax Valuations—Strike Falls.

Special Correspondence.
Beaver City, Beaver Co., Aug. 28.—The board of directors of the Beaver branch of B. Y. U. with the new principal, Prof. Josiah E. Hickman, and his mission, the farmer feels encouraged to increase the acreage for another year.

ALAKUMA-CHOCOLATE-NUT COMBINATION Brings Happy Smiles

The present season has been a model one for all classes of vegetables. Corn and cucumbers are being grown in greater quantities than heretofore, showing the possibilities in the line of such tender plants which can now be grown in care and tillage are combined.

POPULAR LOCAL RESORTS.

The holiday season has again fully demonstrated the advantages of the resorts in and around Cardston. One excursionist from southern California, after a trip to the lakes and into the mountains was so much surprised that he could not say enough of the great variety of scenery and the superior advantages offered here for pleasure seekers. The Waterton Oil and Land company is operating a commodious steamer on the lake, making it much more pleasant than heretofore. A number of individuals, recognizing the pleasure to be derived in boating with the fine gasoline launches for another season.

Fishing and hunting are reported as unusually good, although some campers thought there was a preference shown by the finny tribes for other people's hooks than their own.

M. I. A. CONVENTION.

The Mutual Improvement convention held here last Sunday proved one of the best ever convened in Alberta. Bishop T. A. Clawson and Thomas Hull of the general board were in attendance and the general interest indicated a better condition of the good work which the associations are accomplishing.

Labor Day at Saltair. Everybody is going.

See the Big Cowboy relay race, 20 horses, Wandamere, Labor Day.

FRANKLIN, IDAHO.

TWO STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

S. J. Robinson Meets Instant Death—C. F. Cardon Badly Injured.

Franklin, Oneida Co., Idaho, Aug. 24.—Samuel J. Robinson, of Franklin, Idaho, while repairing his hay rake in his yard this morning at about 8:30 o'clock was instantly killed by a flash of lightning. Dr. States was telephoned for, and was there in a few minutes after the occurrence, but death was instantaneous.

Several of his children were near Mr. Robinson when he was hit and badly burned and lacerated by the electric fluid. They were knocked to the ground but soon recovered.

Mr. Robinson was a prominent member of the Church and a highly esteemed citizen. He leaves a wife and seven children, and several brothers and sisters survive him. He was the oldest son of Samuel Robinson, formerly of Spanish Fork, and later of Franklin. Mrs. Robinson was formerly of Spanish Fork, where her parents and relatives now live.

Word has been received that during an electrical storm in gentle valley today, Charles P. Cardon, son of John F. Cardon of Preston, Idaho, was badly injured by lightning in Cottonwood canyon. The young man was riding a horse when the lightning struck him. The horse was killed. The extent of the injuries of the boy are not known.

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is trick fluid. They were knocked to the ground but soon recovered.

Mr. Robinson was a prominent member of the Church and a highly esteemed citizen. He leaves a wife and seven children, and several brothers and sisters survive him. He was the oldest son of Samuel Robinson, formerly of Spanish Fork, and later of Franklin. Mrs. Robinson was formerly of Spanish Fork, where her parents and relatives now live.

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is

THE COMPLAINT SPOTTER.

The seaside hotel keeper, after turning away three guests for lack of room, began to talk complacently about the success of his unusual success.

"My unusual success is due," he said, "to that tall, handsome man conversing with me and questioning to find out what they dislike about my place. Their dislikes, if reasonable, are remedied at once."

"You'd think there was no need of complaint spotter. You'd think the average guest was born ready to come to the office and register his lack. This, though, is not the case. The average guest kicks the light when it strikes him. In the office. Through cowardice he is mild in the office, pleased with everything. He does all his groveling to his fellow-boarders, where it does no good, but only creates a nasty spirit of discontent.

"But my spotter gets holds of these soreheads at once, we remedy their grievances at once, we remedy their harming, they help the hotel—instead of knockers they become boosters."

WHEN ASSEMBLED

The shirt and collar which has been laundried by us shows no defects in the work.

TROY LAUNDRY

"THE LAUNDRY OF QUALITY"

Both Phones 122 166 Main St.

Some Business Men Are Too "Conservative."

If a farmer concluded not to plant seed, but to "conserve" it, because crops sometimes fail, he would be as wise as the merchant who "conserves" the money which should be invested in publicity, because he has it in bank, and because he fears that publicity may not be completely profitable.

THE BOY WITH THE NEW SUIT

Doesn't mind starting to school nearly as much as he would without.

TOMORROW IS THE DAY

to get the suit, and if exceptional values count, this is the store. We've all the new styles and patterns in

"RUFF and TUFF"

Clothes for boys. Suits at $3.00 to $10.00.

Doullton Madsen Owen & Co.

School Hats and Caps For Boys 111-113 Main Street "WHERE THE CLOTHES FIT" 111-113 Main Street School Shirts and Ties For Boys

DESERET NEWS BOOK STORE

The Leading Book Concern

Complete Stock

FILING DEVICES, LOOSE LEAF LEDGERS,

Type-Writer Supplies, Blank Books and General Office Stationery.

Deseret News Book Store

6 MAIN STREET.

Stack of Letter, Cap and Invoice Size. Upright units.

Stack of Miscellaneous Filing Devices.

To Make Good Soap

Red Seal Lye

—the very best on the market. By its use far better soap can be made than with old style lye. Nothing better for softening water. Put up in a convenient sifting top can for household purposes such as disinfecting, cleaning, etc.

AT GENERAL STORES

P. C. TOMSON & CO., Manufacturers, Philadelphia, Pa.